Playoff Hole was #1

Congratulations to all the winners! Thank you all for participating and helping the LTGA grow. Unfortunately, we can't buy rain. Big thanks to Doug Whites team for donating their winnings back to the LTGA. Thanks also to my lovely bride otherwise known as "chicken lady Leslie".

Rick Swope

The next tournament is scheduled for June 25 in our Bass Series for 2022. Same rules apply. Fishing has been slow. The weather and the activity on the lake has made it challenging. Also the algae growth seems to be worse this year, once again the weather has plenty to do with that too. We are working on a presentation for a new algae control system that is used around the world and the results are amazing. Once all of our data is completed, we will present it to LSIOT, the Mayors office, and our residents. We also had custom LTAC hats made. If you want one, contact me. They are 20.00 each. I can text you a pic; let me know. With 4th of July holiday coming, up, please be careful on the water and the streets. No individual fireworks here at the lake. And we are working on scheduling for more enforcement over the 4th weekend.

Thanks
Steve

We had a great turnout for the First Responders appreciation day. About 150 people showed up. The weather was less than cooperative of course, but everyone ate well and was very thankful. Hopefully it will be yearly event. We are trying to get every house decorated with flags for the 4th. Please contact a Lion If you want to get on the list. as we can add to and upgrade you to our paying customers list anytime.

July 2nd. Our world famous burgers and ice cream extravaganza kicks off right after the parade on Saturday, so get ready for a great time and get everyone together to continue the festivities. At the Community Center.

Thanks
Steve

Slippery Boat Ramps

Lake Tanglewood has two very slippery boat ramps and we have had a few vehicle dunkings this summer. I have been loading and unloading boats for over 50 years and I almost went in once on the South Shore ramp. So these slippery ramps can be a problem for experienced and inexperienced boaters alike. Here a few pointers that might help out.

1. Most boaters put their trailers too far into the lake. In my experience, putting the trailer in so that you can see the tops of the fenders will allow loading and unloading without getting your back tires in the water.
2. Remember when you have your foot on the brake you have engaged both the front and back brakes. However, when you put the car in park you only have the rear brakes engaged. Try to have someone in the car with the brake depressed.
3. If you have a 4X4 be sure it is in engaged so you have both the front and rear brakes engaged.
4. If you don't have a 4X4 and need to load by yourself use a brake peddle compression device. These can be purchased from Amazon for around $30.00. Push the brake down and this device is placed on the brake peddle and then a slide is pulled up to the seat to hold pressure on the brake peddle.
5. Jet ski trailers offer a unique challenge due to the high profile and very short trailer length. This requires backing the tow vehicle well into the water resulting in both the front and rear wheels being in the water and a likely candidate for a full vehicle wash in the lake. I recommend using the north ramp by the playground. It is not too steep and it has gravel and sand on the approach.
6. When back your trailer down the ramp, put the transmission in neutral rather than in reverse. Otherwise, your transmission is working against your brakes. The transmission reverse wins over the rear brakes!
