Harold, Dave, and I went to Horseshoe Bay in February to visit and golf with Brady and Janel Meyer. Janel made a hole in one on #8 Ram Rock.

If you EVER get the lame-brained idea to cut into a fur coat, let me advise you to do it outdoors. It doesn't matter if you do remove the lining and cut from the leather side of the garment, the term "let the fur fly" will quite literally smack on my chest, the coat was so well made they aren't noticeable, and are the perfect place to pop a Kleenex and lipstick.

Families with vintage fur coats, jackets, and stoles are grappling with a generational divide over the social and political view of furs. Gucci, to these youngsters, "Honey, you not wearing that coat isn't going to bring the animal back to life. He's been dead 60 years!" Tell your granddaughter she can "repurpose it," which is so appealing to millennials. Every loved grandchild needs a mink or sable Teddy Bear!

Janel Meyer sunk her second hole in one on Saturday, February 1, 2020, with a 127 yard pitching wedge on Hole #8 on Ram Rock Golf Course, witnessed by her husband Brady Meyer and friends from Amarillo, Harold Bradford, Rick Swope, and Dave Thompson. Congratulations Janel!
